hysteria - social media | November 2023 - February 2024

- Hysteria, represents a pivotal milestone in my journey of learning web development and backend technologies. Conceived as a personal project, Hysteria is a social media platform aimed at exploring the intersection of creativity, technology, and community engagement. While still a work in progress, this project reflects my passion for innovation and my commitment to continuous growth as a developer.

Automated PDF Blank Page Removal Tool | November 2023 - November 2023

- Developed a Node.js program that automatically removes blank pages from PDF files and monitors downloads to process files in real-time. Overcame the challenge of scarce online resources by leveraging multiple libraries. Successfully implemented the solution, enhancing efficiency in managing PDF documents.
